

A day in my very wealthy life

The first thing I did just as I woke up in this morning was to run at least 20 minutes along the lake next to my beautiful house. As soon as I come home I took shower and enjoyed my kingly breakfast, especially the big cup of black tea . After that, I took a ride in my lovely '69 Mustang Boss 429. When I passed at least 100 kilometers, I searched for a luxurious restaurant using my newest Iphone. I ordered a local specialty to explore the taste of different region. As I was leaving the restaurant, I met 2 old friends from early childhood. By the time we had talked, I found out that they had their cars there too, so we decided to race against each other to the nearest bigger city. After I won the race, I decided to invite them into my private cinema underneath my house. While watching the movie, my Iphone rang. I was invited to a birthday party of my colleague. Just as the film finished, I went there to congratulate him and have a good time. During the party, I met a very interesting woman with which I spent the rest of the night. She was the game changer.
